SECRET ORDERS ISSUED?

There is Excitement in the Navy Department,

A RUMOR OF ENGLISH AID

The Conservatives in Havana Decide to Take Part in the Forthcoming Elections.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 10—Secret orders have been issued which are causing excitement in the navy department here. President Griscom, of the American line, has been in consultation with President McKinley, Senator Hanna and Secretary Long.

It is stated that every vessel of the auxiliary navy leaving New York has a naval officer on board, ostensibly as as a passenger but really to take command in case of war.

QUEER RUMOR.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, March 10—The government is said to be considering the advisability of placing English cruises at the service of the United States in case of war with Spain.

HAVANA CONSERVATIVES.

By Cable THE TELEGRAM.

Havana, March 10—The central committee of the conservative party, after a debate lasting until 3 o'clock, agreed to take part in the forthcoming elections.

This attitude does not mean that they have accepted the autonomous form of government or that they will contribute to its establishment. The conservatives will only accept the positions to which they may be elected so as to watch the proceedings of the autonomists and defend their interests; as they say, "to enable them to protest to parliament against the new regime and against the calumnies circulated by the Madrid press and against their arbitrary exclusion from representation in the city councils and provincial assemblies." The conservatives claim that they represent 80 per cent. of the wealth and pay 70 per cent. of of the taxes of the island.

Dr. Ivey One of the Speakers.

The fortieth anniversary of the Y. M. C. A. of Richmond, Va., will be celebrated in that city on Sunday night, the 20th instant. Twelve eminent speakers from over the country have been selected to speak on the subject of Y. M. C. A. work in twelve different churches of Richmond on that occasion.

Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey, of the Christian Advocate, this city, has been selected as one of these speakers. Those who go to hear him, expecting to be entertained and instructed, will not be disappointed.

Jim Corpening Captured.

The negro who shot and seriously wounded Sam Gorrell at a dance on Clinton street Monday night, was captured by Officers Weatherly and Whittington last night. His name is Jim Corpening instead of Copeland, as we were at first informed.

It appears that Jim was preparing to leave town on No. 38 last night. He was discovered below the depot under the gangway for loading cattle when the officers located him. He is in jail awaiting trial.

New Business Ventures.

The Secretary of State today chartered the Albemarle Park Company, of Asheville, for 30 years, capital stock $50,000; stockholders, W. G. Raoul, of Atlanta, T. W. Raoul and T. F. Davidson, of Asheville. The company is given the right to purchase, lease and improve property.

A charter was also granted the Edenton Telephone Company and one to the Brunswick Canning Company. —Col. Old's correspondence.

An effort to determine the pulling strength of elephants was made not very long ago by the use of a dynamometer. One of Barnum & Bailey's largest pachyderms registered two and a half tons, but a smaller one pulled five and a half tons. It required the combined strength of 83 men to equal this, and a pair of powerful horses registered at a ton and one-fifth.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N.C., March 10, '98.

Miss Lillie Millis and Mr. D. V. Cassady were married last night at the home of the bride. They will make High Point their future home.

Don't forget to go the opera house Friday night.

G. R. Miller, of Archdale, was in the city today on business.

The High Point minstres feel highly honored as they are wanted in Winston and Asheboro at an early date.

J. M. Fletcher and family, of Philadelphia, Pa., who have been at Jarrels Hotel since the first of January, left today for Winston. We regret to lose them.

W. J. Armfield is spending the day in Asheboro with his son.

Mrs. J. B. Richardson left today for a visit to her mother in Lilesville.

A. G. W. Thompson has a very attractive sign in front of his bicycle repairing establishment.

Miss Floy Richardson one of High Point's most highly accomplished young ladies, who has been visiting the Misses Armfield, of Sopona Side, for a few days returned home last night.

Lawyer G. S. Bradshaw, of Greensboro, passed through the city today enroute to Asheboro.

The subscription list of The Greensboro Evening Telegram is rapidly growing in High Point and vicinity.

James Wray, of Archdale is a visitor to the city today.

Miss Bessie Steed is spending a few days in Trinity, visiting relatives.

The family of G. J. Starr left today for Winston, where Mr. Starr has been in business for sometime. It is High Point's loss and Winston's gain.

Mrs. W. J. Clary, of Greensboro, who hae been visiting the family of A. V. Sapp, returned home today.

Miss Serra Tyson, of Asheboro, is spending the day in the city shopping.

L. McRae, of Spray, who has been south on business passed through this morning returning home.

Andrews on Lee.

President Andrews of Brown University will appear for the first time in North Carolina at the State Normal and Industrial College, Tuesday evening Mar. 15th., delivering his famous lecture on Gen. Robt. E. Lee. Our people do not often have an opportunity of hearing so great a man on so great a subject.

The Americus, Ga., Evening Herald says: "A most eloquent address. Even more than eloquent, it was impressive, touching and magnificent. Never was an audience more entertained. From beginning to end Mr. Andrews was listened to with the most interested attention, and there was not one in the audience who did not thoroughly enjoy the evening."

A Lively Runaway.

Yesterday afternon a wagon and team belonging to Peter Jackson, out in the country, was standing near McAuley's bar, when the team took fright and ran away. The colored driver was thrown astride the wagon tongue at the first bound of the horses and away they went, going south on S. Elm with the driver in this perilous position.

The wagon was loaded with shingles and they were scattered to the four winds. The team was held up somewhere on McCulloch street with no damage done, barring a few bruises sustained by the driver.

Reduced Rates.

On account of the appearance of Louis James at the Academy of Music Monday afternoon and night in Julius Caesar and Spartacus, the Gladiator, the Southern Railway, will sell reduced rate, round trip tickets from all the neighboring towns to give the people a chance to see this great actor.

This is a great company, and one that Greensboro has never before had the pleasure of seeing. Seats now on sale at Gardner's drug store. Matinee 3 p. m., in which Julius Caesar will be played. At night 8:30, Spartacus the Gladiator will be played.

RECONCENTRADO HORROR.

Proctor and Parker Return From Cuba.

THE AWFUL TALE THEY BRING.

Say Lee is in Const Danger of Assassination and all Havana Admits the Maine Was Blown Up.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Key West, Mar. 10—Senator Proctor who has been making a study of the Cuban situation with Colonel Parker arrived this morning and was shown to Admiral Sicard's room at once and was closeted with him for several hours. The object of the interview presumably was to deliver some messages to Admiral Sicard from Captain Converse of the Montgomery who is an old Vermonter. Proctor referred the Union Associated press correspondent to Colonel Parker who therefore spoke authoritatively on Proctor's visit to Cuba to examine into the situation. Colonel Parker said "Senator Proctor's visit to Cuba was purely a personal one."

THE FAMINE AND DISTRIBUTION of the reconcentrados is almost indescribable. The Alcalde of Matanzas told me that 50,000 people had died of starvation during the year past and 5,600 during the month of February. In the hospital of Matanzas are hundreds of Cubans mostly sleeping on the floor. During our half an hour in the ward three of the inmates died. Blanco's order modifying Weyler's reconcentrado order has not yet gone into effect but when it does I do not believe it will help matters. Around every town there is a trocha and the citizen who goes beyond it

WILL BE SHOT.

Clara Barton has done much toward distributing supplies. Most of the American consuls are working hard in this direction. One consul at Magas, in Cienfuegos, who is deep in Spain's sympathy, says the reconcentrados are dying from eating too much. He will not be given further supplies.

As we were entering a hotel two Spanish officers standing by the door said: "I should like to have an order to kill those people." Every American in Cuba is watched as though he were a criminal. Everybody in Havana now knows that the Maine was blown up. The Spaniards do not deny it nor do they seem very sorry for it.

LEE IS A GRAND MAN.

He is a hero in constant danger of assassination. Havana is calm today but it is the calmness of suppressed feeling before a storm.

Are we going to have war? Well I should not be surprised.

FOLLOWS OUR EXAMPLE.

Russia Makes an Appropriation for Her Navy.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

St. Petersburg, March 10—A special ukase has been issued ordering the disbursement of ninety million rubles, ($70,000,000), in an extroardinary expenditure for the construction of warships. A new loan will be raised to provide funds. The American, British and Russian defense appropriations this week, aggregating $240,000,000 for naval armament is unprecedented.

Spain Buys Five Ships.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Berlin, Mar. 10—Spain has made a conditional purchase of five vessels and others are being inspected.

Duties Remitted.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mar. 10—Senator Chandler has introduced a bill remitting the duty on war material.

Sagasta Says Peace.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM

Madrid, March 10—Premier Sagasta says there is nothing in the present situation to cause alarm.

DASTARDLY TRAIN WRECKERS.

Prove to Have Been Only Boys Dynamiting Fish.

Special to the Telegram.

Winston, March 10—What was supposed to be an attempt to wreck a train on the Mocksville railroad Monday has proved to be a bit of boys' thoughtlessness, and happened in this way:

A company of young boys were out "dynamiting" fish on the river, throwing the dynamite from the bridge, as the nearest point of vantage. Several bars are said to have been thrown, these two without caps were left on the bridge, the boys forgetting them. They were found next day by a man who reported the fact in a most hair raising manner. The boys won't say anything for the reason that the "dynamiting" of fish is thoroughly against the law, and what was thought to be the most dastardly act is one of the thoughtlessness of a crowd of boys.

As to the Communications.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, March 10—Curzon in the house of commons said no communications had been exchanged by Pauncefote and the United States respecting Cuba.

THEY ANSWER "GO AHEAD"

Other Nations Wish to See the United States Intervene.

M'KINLEY'S MESSAGE COMPLETED

Recognizing Cuban Belligerency—England Openly Preparing to Recognize it After Us.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

Washington, March 10—It is now known that Sir Julian Pauncefote's call on President McKinley was to express the gratification of the Queen at his wisdom and conservatism displayed in handling the Spanish-Cuban matter and her thorough sympathy with the efforts of this country to relieve the distress of the unfortunate Cubans. England's attitude in the event of war was not broached. The Evening Journal's Washington special states that the recognition of Cuba is certain in a few days.

President McKinley's message to congress recommending the recognition is completed and approved by his advisors. Other nations when asked regarding intervention have answered "go ahead."

ENGLISH SYMPATHY.

London, March 10—There is a movement in the house of commons from conservatives and liberals alike to urge England to acknowledge the independence of Cuba immediately after the United States does.

Ronald Munroe Ferguson, a liberal representative, will question the government whether Pauncefote has exchanged communications with President McKinley regarding Cuba.

THE POT'S ABILIN.

Guilford Will Have Candidates for Judicial Honors.

There is not a great deal appearing on the surface but the political pot is beginning to boil pretty freely here for all that, in view of the approaching county and district conventions. The indications at present are that Guilford will have at least two candidates for judicial honors before the county convention and possibly before the district convention as well, though the matter may be settled in the county convention. At present there are three members of the bar who are in the field. It is a tradition of the district that Guilford county divides her strength in the district convention and fails to get her just recognition in consequence. This year Guilford is entitled to a candidate and has plenty of good material. She ought to name one. Parker of Alamance is a candidate for the judgeship and it is pretty generally understood that he and Boone of Durham who is a candidate for solicitor have formed a combination.

A Murder Involves Two Countries.

Westminster, B. C., March 9—Jack Atkinson, who runs a hotel on the Canadian line at Blaine, quarreled with Billy Patterson, proprietor of a rival establishment on Saturday last. Atkinson shot Patterson in the leg, inflicting a wound from the effects of which Patterson died. Atkinson surrendered to the authorities. The trial will take an international aspect, the feature being that of a man standing in Canada and shooting another who stood on United States soil.

Married Today.

The marriage of Miss Albright and Mr. Junius B. Stroud, took place today at the brides, home at Albright, Alamance county. Mr. Stroud, accompanied by his brother, E. B. Stroud and sister Miss Mamie Stroud, left at 8:50 this morning. The bridal party will arrive in the city on the train from the east this evening. The Telegram's heartiest congratulations are extended to the newly wedded couple.

Fame.

Senator Jeter C. Pritchard has gone up another rung on the ladder of fame He has at last had his picture printed in the patent medicine advertisements, and soon the North Carolina senator will be heralded to the world as taking sixteen dozen bottles of a noted remedy and being entirely cured of a corn on the left ear.—Charlotte News.

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the occulist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following;

OFFER OF THE BLACK CAT.

It is a commonplace enough remark among people who keep at all informed of the literary productions of the day that the south has practically no literature, while its potentialties in that direction are greater than those of any other section of the country.

Charles Egbert Craddock, James Lane Allen, Ruth McEnnery Stuart, Thomas Nelson Page, John Esten Cook, Christian Reid, Joel Chandler Harris have each touched upon some phase of life here and there but for the most part their stories deal with war times, the reconstruction period or are merely local as the Tennessee mountain stories of Craddock. The infamous libels of Judge Tourgee may be omitted from the list.

That vast field of the common people with all its rich possibilities of story and song is quite fallow. The new south, the growing south, that, like a young giant with much warm blood in his veins, is only becoming aware of its powers has as yet found no one to characterize its life. There are thousands of good stories here, all unwritten. In the main it may be said that no attempt has been made to write them.

A great deal of time has been spent of late years by literati in advising young people not to write. There is much wisdom in it, but it may be carried too far. The quantity of brain power required to write many of the current stories of the best periodicals would not run a saw mill nor would the requisite amount of imagination keep a balloon in high air.

The south needs a literature. It deepens and sweetens the life of a people and rubs out many of the harsh lines; nay more, for the materialist, be it said, it even pays in hard dollars. There ought to be a "school" of southern writers.

A periodical published under the rather freakish name of the "Black Cat" makes an offer of $4,000, we believe, to be given as prizes for stories which must be "clean and original." The "Black Cat" does not rank with the Century or Harper's, but it offers good remuneration for good work and does not, in the least, care whether your name has been heard of outside of the square on which you live. That is a fair and honorable proposition. It offers an opportunity that no other periodical does. There is really no reason why some of the winning stories should not be written in the south. It is worth the while for any one with the story-telling gift to make the trial.

It is coming to be pretty generally recognized that in addition to honesty and good intentions a little common sense is desirable in a public servant or a private citizen.

The manner in which Senator Hanna put the soft pedal on the committee investigating his method of taking by purchase shows that he is a musician as well as a financier.

Spain may be forced to the conclusion when she comes to bid against the United States for warships that after all it is not such a bad thing to be a "nation of shop-keepers."

Even the World is not able to satisfy the craving of the New York Journal for war. The Journal to be eternally fit should equip a brigade or so of Chinamen as its quota.

North Carolinians, viewing the near approach of the gubernatorial election in Georgia, cannot help voting with the affirmative of the oft debated question, "Is there more pleasure in pursuit or possession?"

Speaking of a matter of which he knew somewhat Napoleon said that the first requisite for war was money, the second was money, and the third was money. From the nonchalance with which Uncle Sam puts up $50,000,000 at a time he seems to think himself fairly well provided with the requisite.

Fun for China.

Japan is alleged to have threatened to punish China in some manner not disclosed if the latter should lease Port Arthur and Talien-Wan and concede sovereign rights to Russia over the Liaotung peninsula. China is placed in a most humiliating and ludicrous position whenever any two of her would-be heirs happen to engage in a controversy over their expected inheritance. The Ewart Investigation.

Washington, Mar. 9—The examination of witnesses in the Ewart case was continued this afternoon by the Senate Judiciary committee. Among the witnesses examined were Capt. Bowman, J. M. Gudger, Lawson O. Milton. Senator Pritchard, who has been representing Judge Ewart, said this evening that Judge Ewart would come out all right. Some very strong letters in favor of Judge Ewart were received today by the Judiciary Committee. The report tonight is that the sub-committe will report to the full committee. this week.—News and Observer.

A GEORGIA HEN COOP.

It Was Sure Proof Against the Inroads of Outsiders.

"There isn't a more faithful being on earth," said a Georgia business man to a reporter, "than one of our Georgia darkies. Neither is there one more superstitious, nor yet again is there one who loves better the products of the hen coop. And Cartersville isn't any different from any one of a hundred southern towns. When I was down there some time ago, a customer of mine who had a fancy for chickens and who had always had more or less trouble in maintaining ownership of them told me he had a remedy and asked me to go around with him and see it. I wanted him to tell me what it was, but he insisted on my seeing it first, so I went along with him, and in a few minutes was standing in his back yard before what was to me the oddest chicken coop I ever saw. It was constructed of large timbers and there were a dozen places in its walls where a hand could be run in and everything cleaned out within reach. Then there was no fastening on the door, nor was there any kind of protection to the fowls. I couldn't understand how such an inviting snap could be of any use to the owner and said as much.

"'The charm is in the timber,' said he.

"'No,' said I.

"'Fact, just the same,' said he. 'You don't see it on the outside and you don't know it, but the darkies around here do, and they won't come within 100 yards of that coop if they can help it. I don't care how full of chickens it is. 'Cause why? It is built of the timbers of a gallows on which a man was hung about three months ago in another county. It cost me something extra to get it, but it has more than paid for itself since I have had it, and I am in the market now to buy all the secondhand scaffolds in Georgia. If you run across a sheriff any place with one for sale, let me know by next mail, won't you, please?'

"It was a true bill," concluded the traveling man, "for I saw a darky tried on it, and he refused a big silver dollar to go down to the coop to get a chicken for breakfast."—Washington Star.

TEAS AND TEAS.

Things Once Used or Now Used as Substitutes For the Chinese Herb.

Of course every one knows that we drink a good deal that isn't tea when we drink a cup of tea. We drink—or are supposed to drink—some tea, some lead and some straw. But there are several "teas" that the drinkers know are not made of tea leaves and yet are not adulterated.

In Peru they drink mate, a tea made from the Ilex paraguensis, a species of holly. This is the only mate tea, but there is a Brazilian tea, gorgonha, called mate there; another tea used in Austria, called Brazilian tea, and several other so called mate teas are made from different varieties of the ilex. In Labrador they make a tea from two species of ledum. Oswego tea was made from the scarlet mouarda, and mountain tea from the dwarf evergreen, Gaultheria procumbens. Then clover tea and tansy tea and catnip tea and mint tea are used, though not as beverages.

In Sumatra they use coffee leaves to make tea out of, and the beverage is said to be very refreshing. In Mauritius the leaves of an orchid, Angroecum fragrans, are used. The Tonquinese have teas of their own, made of leaves, berries, barks and woods. The Abyssinians make tea out of the leaves of the Catha edulis. When a sentinel can't leave his post to get a cup of tea, he can chew a leaf or two of this plant, and he won't feel like going to sleep all night. In Tasmania there are said to be more than 200 substitutes for tea; in England they used to make a tea of sage, betony or rosemary and of raspberry leaves; in France they use black currant leaves and borage to make tea, and a century or so ago they gathered in English gardens and fields ash, elder and sloe leaves, and the leaves of whitethorn and blackthorn, out of which to make tea. So it is evident that there are teas and teas.—New York Sun.

Animals' Fright Is Short.

A question that has often been asked is, How long does fright last in a wild creature? The close observer will be surprised at its brief duration. They are not subject to "nerves" like human beings. A partridge after running (or rather flying) the gantlet of half a dozen guns—if we may be allowed a mixed metaphor—drops on the other side of a hedge and begins calmly to peck as if nothing had happened. You would think a rabbit after hearing a charge of shot whistling about its haunches and just managing to escape from a yelping spaniel would keep indoors for a week, but out it pops quite merrily as soon as the coast is clear. A fox pursued by hounds has been known to halt and kill a fowl in its flight, though we may assume that his enemies were not close to Reynard at the time. We have been led into thinking about the matter by noting what took place at a cover after being shot over.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Drying Clothes.

The drying of clothes in frosty weather is sometimes, in the case of delicate fabrics, attended with tearing because of the quick stiffening in the very cold air. A simple precaution which will prevent any such trouble is to dissolve three or four handfuls of coarse salt in the last rinsing water, thus making it, in fact, a weak brine. Articles so rinsed will not suffer from or stiffen with the cold.

The cheeks become pale from fear because the mental emotion diminishes the action of the heart and lungs and so impedes the circulation.

Tonsilitis Tonsilitis

Tonsilitis Can Be Cured. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy will do it.

Eagle, Iredell Co., N. C., December 10, 1897.

For a long time my son was troubled with some bronchial trouble which, every time he took cold, settled in his throat and produced something like tonsilitis. The tonsils would enlarge and swell so that he had great trouble to swallow anything and could take no solid food. Last spring he took one-half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and gargled with the Wash, and it cured him. He has not had a spell since.

Anglo-Saxon Common Sense.

I had occasion at Coolgardie to be present at a public meeting gathered to protest strongly against the actions of the Western Australian government with regard to the mining population and the insufficiency of its political representation. Several speakers held forth. One declared that he was neither democrat nor socialist, another that he was a democrat, but not a socialist; a third at last professed himself a socialist. Sometimes groans, sometimes applause, underlined certain phrases, but in the midst of these gold miners, in this town but three years old, in spite of the relaxing influence of a torrid heat, the most perfect order reigned throughout. Thanks were voted at the end of the meeting to all the speakers without distinction of opinion, a motion of protest was adopted, and the crowd retired in the greatest tranquillity. I thought, not without shame, of the manner in which meetings of this kind are often conducted in France.—"Les Nouvelles Societes Anglo-Saxonnes," Pierre Leroy-Beaulieu.

The Lamp that lights the way to Good Health is a bottle of the greatest of all blood purifiers—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

This great blood purifier and nerve tonic, cures diseases by removing from the system, the conditions which produce them. It expels all poison and impurity from the blood. It acts upon the nerves as a stimulant, particularly upon those nerves belonging to the great organs of the body; therefore, it causes the heart to beat with greater force, the lungs to take in more oxygen and to expel more carbonic acid; it induces the kidneys to send off more of the poisonous excretions from the blood; the bowels to have more regularity and healthfulness in their action; the sweat glands to throw out more impurities.

Our illustrated book of 36 pages will tell you what is the matter and what to do. Its free for the asking. Quart bottle, $1.00.

DYNAMITE FOR THE MINES.

Enough Was Shipped Weyler to Blow Up Three War Ships.

New York, Mar. 9—General Emilio Nuez's statement in Philadelphia the other day that dynamite was shipped by General Weyler's indirect order from this port to Havana has been confirmed in detail.

Not only dynamite enough to destroy three war ships like the Maine, but submarine wire, many exploders and a powerful battery were shipped from New York in the hold of the steamer Ciudad Condal on November 20, 1896, as the result of instructions forwarded by cable from the Spanish authorities in Havana to the local agents of the steamship line.

Mr. Dittmar, of the Dittmar Powder Company, said today concerning that shipment:

"Our sale to the Spanish Government at that time was clearly legitimate, and no one could have foreseen then the destruction of an American warship."

FOUND DEAD.

A Colored Woman in the Woods Near Roxboro.

Roxboro, N. C., March 9—The dead body of a colored woman was found in the woods near this place Tuesday morning. The woman was the wife of John Hamlin, a highly respected colored man. On Monday evening she went out to hunt for her husband, who was off at his work. Upon reaching home that night, Hamlin had seen nothing of her, and at once instituted a search, which was kept up until one o'clock Tuesday morning, but nothing could be heard of her up to that time. Her body was found cold and stiff in death several hours later by one of her children. There is no doubt but what she died a natural death, of heart disease, or some other similar disease.—Durham Sun.

Reed's Characterization of Long.

The attitude of Secretary Long in the Maine matter recalls a criticism that Speaker Reed once made of him. It was in the Forty-ninth Congress, when Mr. Long represented one of the Massachusetts districts. Mr. Long and Judge Springer were wrangling over something. Mr. Reed, who sat back in the House, saw Mr. Long on the floor and asked what was going on.

"Long and Springer are quarreling," came the reply.

"Quarreling?" retorted Mr. Reed, with his inimitable drawl, "Long quarreling? Long is not quarreling. Long is compromising."—Washington Times.

One of the Family.

Sometimes we become almost as much attached so a dumb brute as to humanity. Such was the case with C.C. Cates and his little dog Tip, which had been a member of his family for fifteen years, and Sunday when he breathed the breath of life for the last time Mr. Cates gave him a decent burial.—Roxboro Courier.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS.

Sergeant Fisher is Denied Christian Burial.

Highland Falls, N. Y., March 8—Sergeant Charles Fisher, of the army, who committed suicide on Saturday in one of the rooms of the library building at West Point, was buried today with military honors, notwithstanding that there is an unwritten law in the army prohibiting such ceremonies. It was the intention of the authorities to have Fisher's remains brought to the cadet chapel, where the services of the Episcopal church were to be conducted. When the wives of the officers of the post heard of this arrangement they protested against it, contending that Fisher, being a suicide, was not entitled to Christian burial. The protest had its effect on the authorities and it was decided to dispense with the religious part of the program and have the funeral take place from the soldiers' hospital. Fisher's funeral was largely attended, many officers of the post being present.

Monday Afternoon and Night.

Mr. Louis James will inaugurate the second season of his starring contract with Messrs. Wagenals and Kemper with a magnificent scenic revival of the great McCullough and Forrest version of "Spartacus the Gladiator." Among the many stories of ancient Roman history the episode in which Spartacus plays so prominent a part is one of the most interesting.

Spartacus, the Thracian captive, forced to fight in the arena to make sport for the cruel populace of Rome, is suddenly confronted by his brother and told to kill him. Infuriated by this he incites his companions to revolt and with such weapons as fall into their hands they take refuge in the shadows of Mount Vesuvius. The little band grows daily and at length, swollen to an army, it falls like a torrent upon the eternal city of Rome and causes oppression to tremble on its seven hills.

Never was Rome so near destruction, but by a supreme effort the revolt is quelled and Spartacus is slain.

Spartacus, the Gladiator, will be played at night, Monday the 14th, at the Academy of Music.

At the matinee Julius Caesar will be played on the same date.

Lecture by Dr. Alexander.

The first lecture in Memorial Hall at Guilford College, will be given on Saturday night the 12th inst, at 7:30 by Prof. Eben Alexander, of Chapel Hill, late Minister to Greece.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for consumption, coughs and colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.' Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and today stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Let all the people hear the illustrated lecture of Prof. Dobbins at the courthouse tonight. There will be about 150 views presented. It is for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of West Market street church. Admission, 25 and 15 cents.

The illustrated gospel song service of Mr. and Mrs. Dobbins at Centenary church last night was attended and greatly enjoyed by a packed audience. Mr. Dobbins will give an illustrated lecture at the court house tonight for the benefit of West Market Street church.

A gentleman from the southern part of Georgia, Mr. Damon, has been in the city a day or two and is thinking of locating here. He is a merchant and, upon inquiry, found there was not a vacant store room for rent in in the city. Reflecting on this he became more impressed with Greensboro, and now says he must have a place here.

The "Rockland" shoes are among the best medium and fine lines on the market, and are most highly appreciated by a large number of our people who have worn them. NEW SWITCHBOARD HERE.

One of the Best Equipped Exchanges in the State.

The new American telephone switchboard, with accommodations for 200 subscribers, is here and manager McAdoo is hard at work wiring it up. The amount of work this necessitates is enormous and though it is being pushed with all possible dispatch, only 100 'phones will be ready for use by the first of next week.

There is now a demand for 120 'phones and those desiring service are asked to be as patient as possible.

The switchboard is a beauty in its line and is fitted with the best lightning protecting devices. When filled the board will require the services of two operators.

A water motor hitched to a magneto electric dynamo supplies the current for the bell circuits while, of course, a battery is used for the transmitting currents. Few exchanges in the state use this double current system. The exchange will occupy four rooms on the third story of the McAdoo building and while the painters and carpenters are at work now the quarters will evidently be handsome and comfortable when finished.

SHOWING OF THE UNDERWRITERS

Its Policies are Proving Exceedingly Popular.

The new insurance company organized here under the name of the Underwriters is following in the footsteps of its predecessor, the Southern Stock-Mutual, in the popularity of its policies. So far it has met with no losses at all and is doing a good business. It has agents all over the state, about 75 in all, and amost gratifying showing is being made in such cities as Durham and Charlotte. The capital stock of the company it will be remembered is $75,000, half of which was paid in cash. The company has already invested $12,000 in Greensboro, and other investments will be made here in the near future. There is evidently a demand for the kind of policies written by this company. The insurance business as represented by the stock mutual plan shows an increase since January first of fifty per cent. over the corresponding period for last year.

Mr. Watlington Dead.

Monroe Watlington, for several years the efficient clerk at the McAdoo, died last night at the home of his brother-in-law, C. E. Thomas on Walker avenue. Mr. Watlington has been ill for sometime and for the last day or two his death was momentarily expected.

The deceased leaves a large circle of freinds who are pained to learn of his demise. A young man just reaching the prime age of manhood, his death is a peculiarly sad one. The funeral was conducted from the residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Pastor Johnson, of the Baptist church and the remains interred in Greene Hill cemetery, attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

A number of beautiful floral designs prompted by loving hearts, were placed over and around the last resting place of this deservedly popular young man. May a shining convoy of angels, proportionately grand and beautiful as the flowers at his funeral, greet him on the resurrection morn.

May Give Law Lectures.

Judge Dick had a number of young men preparing to stand for admisson to the bar under him before his illness. These young men have been left without an instructor and there are a number of others in the city who wish to study law. Several of them have asked Attorney A. L. Brooks to take up the course and continue the lectures and he has the matter under consideration.

Mr. Brooks took the full law course at the Uuniversity and is one of the best equipped young attorneys in the state. He should be able to give the young men a stiff and up to date course if he attempts it.
